Reflection:

It was my pleasure to receive such a precious opportunity to work as a student helper at the Careers Expo for Knowledge. Commitment. Success (KCS), one of the leading independent corporate services firms providing corporate accounting, corporate secretarial and payroll solution, in Conrad Hong Kong Hotel on 18th January 2014. I had always dreamt of working for a well-known business firm as a businesswoman and finally I could experience this through participating in a business promotional event.

On that day, our mission was to promote KCS to fresh graduates from Australia as the expo mainly targeted Australian students. We answered questions about the company and the job duties of certain posts. At first, it felt strange when I gave suggestions to or answered questions from the Australian students who were older than me. Feeling nervous, I even gave wrong information to them. Fortunately, there were three senior staff members correcting my mistakes immediately so I did not get into trouble. With their help, I soon adapted to the work environment and tackled many challenging questions. Here, I would like to show my sincere thank to their kindness for encouraging and teaching us.

What is more, I have known more about the business sector after attending the promotion of KCS. The experience proved to be extremely rewarding. I have learnt that the structure of the company is well-organized. It is divided into several departments including the Human Resources, Promotion and Financing Departments. Although it is a business firm, running it involves expertise in many areas other than that in business. What is more, I have come to realize that language is extremely important as a global language between people speaking different languages. Also, a good education is essential for us to achieve success since only knowledge can enrich our thoughts and pave the way for us in the future.

In conclusion, it was a great chance for me to realize my dream and broaden my horizons. Having the opportunity to work as a student helper for such a big company is absolutely valuable. I hope I will have other chances to get more hands-on experience in the workplace.
