

In a bid to enhance collaboration in professional services between Zhejiang and Hong Kong, the 2nd Zhejiang-Hong Kong Modern Professional Services Cooperation Conference will take place in Ningbo on 25-26 July. Themed “Innovation and Integration for Development, Advancing Modernisation Together,” the event aims to highlight the latest triumphs in Zhejiang’s economy and professional sectors. Participants will have the opportunity to foster meaningful exchanges in key industries, including artificial intelligence, financial services, law, accounting and logistics, paving the way for partnerships between enterprises from both regions.

The event will include an opening ceremony and four thematic forums, bringing together government officials, business chambers, professionals and corporate representatives from Hong Kong and Zhejiang. The sessions will centre on technological innovation and industrial integration, sharing successful experiences and facilitating collaboration to support the high-quality development goals outlined in the 14th Five-Year Plan.

In light of the national agenda, HKGCC Chairman Agnes Chan will lead a delegation to Ningbo from 25 to 26 July to attend the 2nd Zhejiang-Hong Kong Modern Professional Services Cooperation Conference and explore local developments.
